

Jean Houston, Ph.D.
SOCIAL ARTIST AS WORLD SERVER
Minneapolis/St.Paul, September 23-25, 2005

Get inspired – understanding and preparing yourself as a social artist

Join us with this exciting “teacher’s teacher” for an exhilarating and inspiring romp through psychology, leadership, education, religion, archeology, contemporary physics and theater. Jean is a consultant to governmental agencies and organizations in over 40 countries. Author of 17 books, including The Possible Human, Life Force, Public Like a Frog and her Harper San Francisco autobiography, A Mythic Life: Learning to Live Our Greater Stories, she is co-director with her husband Dr. Robert Masters of the Foundation for Mind Research. A scholar and researcher in human capacities and cross-cultural education, Jean is a favorite as a speaker and for her highly engaging, multidimensional learning experiences.
